A TIMELY ANSWER. Senator David B. Hill, of New York, is on a tour through the South and has been addressing enthusiastic throngs of Democrats in various cities. Among the very timely things he has said is the following of which the good people of Knoxville, Tennessee, had the benefit:

"I observe that there has been printed a portion of the speech of President Harrison which he delivered here. Permit me to quote a few sentences from that speech. He said: 'What hinders us, secure in the market of our own great population, from successful competition in the markets of the world What hinders our people, possessing every element of material wealth and endowed with inventive genius and energy unsurpassed, from again having upon the seas a merchant marine flying the flag of our country and carrying its commerce into every sea and every

"Permit me to say to the President and his party that I can tell them what is to hinder. It is the Republican legislation of the past twenty-five or thirty years. [Great applause.] Legislation which has built up the barriers to a greater commerce; legislation which, instead of giving us freer and wider markets, has restricted them. That is the reason that the farmers and the manufacturers of this portion of the country, as well as of the whole of the United States, have not entered into successful competition in the markets of the world. He speaks of the desirability of having our merchant marine flying the flag of our country every-where. I beg to remind him that in the good old days of Democratic rule the flag of our country used to fly on merchant marine everywhere throughout the globe, and it is only the narrow, restrictive, partisan policy of the party now in power that has prevented our commerce from thus spreading around the globe. I trust the time will come when our commerce will be freer than it is now. I trust the time will come when the barriers of legislation which restrict and hamper your industries and embarrass your business will be removed. That time will come, in my judgment, when we shall have that Democratic victory next fall for which we are all now praying. (Cheers.) I think, my friends, that the time is ripe for the express manifestation of a bold, vigorous and aggressive Democracy."

FARMERS' ALLIANCE FOR GORMAN-The Farmers' Alliance Journal, published in Baltimore, of last week, contains a handsomely executed portrait of Senator Gorman whom the Journal styles "the next president of the United

Editorially the Journal says: "In publishing the portrait of the Hon. Arthur P. Gorman, the Farmer's Alliance Journal presents to the public the solved problem of Democracy. Arthur P. Gorman, a great man, a statesman, has earned and holds a proud position in the public thought. Washington at the head of a feeble army facing the most powerful nation on earth was doubtless a sublime sight to patriots, but Gorman in his gallant fight against the Force Bill has put a wreath of glory on his fame. From that time he stood in the front rank. He never wavered. He could not have won it over the able adversaries with whom he contended if he had not known his business thoroughly. In a government of the people a leader should be a man of stainless integritya statesman, capable of seeing the fundamental principles of human societya man of remarkable poise, keen and acute. There is needed something of all these and more—it needs a character strong at all points, liberal as Jefferson but conservative also; a man whose counsels are also considerate, but always positive. The finger of fate points to Arthur P. Gorman, and the citizens of this free country will make no mistake in honoring him with the nomination for the Presidency, and we predict for him a nomination that will be a spontaneous tribute from the people. He does not seek the Presidency; the Presi dency seeks him. It can be truly said of him that fame came to him, not because he planned for it, but because he went straight ahead serving the country, and it is the only way, after all, in which fame really worth having is to be secured."

Senator Rogers, of Howard county' said Tuesday to a representative of the Baltimore Sun: "My choice is Mr. Cleveland because he has been tried and not found wanting, and, having offered the country tariff reform, the great issue of the day, and the country hav ing been fully aroused to the necessity for such reform and with a mighty voice having spoken in no uncertain tones its favor, I believe there is no man who can more safely lead the great Democratic column than Mr. Cleveland at this time."

Frederick Hamilton was the name of one of the heroes who, unknown to fame, do and dare faithfully and fearlessly in the grand army of journalism. He it was who unhesitatingly entered a pest-house in New York city to invesligate the condition of quarantined typhus fever patients. He did it that the public might be informed, although warned that he took his life in his hands. He appreciated the danger, but he went, and it was to his death. His name will not live in the public mind, owes most today, the tireless, ever-vigilant and ubiquitous newspaper workers, are unknown to the world at large. But every Hamilton is a brick in the city of refuge which journalism is building for mankind.

Uncle George Colton talks to the reporters of the Baltimore Sun every now and then. He was in a chatty mood Monday and among other things said: Do I think the Maryland delegation would vote for Gorman? Of course I do. He is in favor of Cleveland himself, and if we send such a delegation I would like them to be ready to vote for Gorman at any and all times when there is a chance for his nomination. But I want Maryland to send a delegation pledged to Cleveland, because it would represent the overwhelming sentiment of our people. If Cleveland should fail I think the nomination would go to the West, where we have plenty of good men upon whom the party would unite, and with the tariff issue alone as

Ex- Governor Buckner, of Kentucky, arrived home from Washington this week, after a few days' visit, and on his return was interviewed in regard to Presidential candidates. He said that the leaders in Washington were at sea and did not now pretend to foreshadow events so far as Presidential possibilities were concerned. It was his opin

Col. L. L. Polk, president of the National Farmers' Alliance, said a few ical parties,"having severed all party ties-If the Colonel wants to win a reputation worth anything let him take the stump for the next presidential nominee of the Democratic party. Here are laurels, Colonel, for one that talks as well as numerous friends forever,

In his speech before the Mississippi leg islature, Senator Hill well said that the farmers for their own deliverance should reinforce the Democrats and enable that party to dethrone the indorser of every act of the billion-dollar Congress. Alone, he said, the farmers could do nothing but defeat their own hopes and re-elect the party whose policy of protected taxes plundered the farmer first

A press dispatch from Grand Rapids' says: "Governor Winans, in an interview, expresses himself as desiring to see Cleveland the party candidate for President. But he adds that it is his belief that neither Cleveland nor Hill will secure the nomination. If the candidate is to come from the West, hethinks Boies is the man, and if from the East, then Gorman has the best chance.

Baltimore American: "To be a Christian, says John J. Cornell, does not necessarily involve the acceptance of any particular doctrine or creed. It is to lead a life that is Christ-like—a life that is full of love to our fellow-man. This is a sentiment worthy of being taken as a text by all men of every race, of every creed the world over, minister or lay man.' Christ epitomized the whole doctrine in the golden rule.

The Baltimore World says: "If Sullivan and Mitchell ever meet in a prize ring it is to be hoped that the eminent Mr. Sullivan will slug Mitchell into the middle of the succeeding week." And we rise to remark that our own and only John is just the festive brute to do it.

Mrs. Mary Snyder, of Watersville Carroll county, in renewing her sub scription for another year, says: "I have been reading THE TIMES for many years and am not tired of it yet." We hope for many more years of pleasant ac quaintance with our subscriber.

Editor Henry Watterson, of the Louis ville Courier Journal, has given up his fight for Mr. Cleveland's nomination and says that Maryland may get it. THE TIMES said that long ago.

The type-founders trust will shortly go into effect and the cost of publishing newspapers will be enhanced. But subscription to The Times is still one dollar a year in advance.

The tariff is under discussion in Con gress. Speaker Crisp and ex-Speaker Reed, once known as "Czar" Reed, will be heard from. Mr. J. Fred. C. Talbott, the weli known Baltimore county politician, is an enthusiastic Cleveland man and says

LETTER FROM FORT WORTH. Prosperous City-Scenes Like Those of the Wild and Woolly West.

By special request of subscriber of your popular paper, The Times, I write to give a brief de scription of Fort Worth and vicinity. Now it seems to me from experience that the first thing which attracts t stranger in Texas, is its fine climate and beautiful prairie country. At this season of the year prairie gras four inches in height, is alone furnishing food for thousands and thousands of head of cattle, which give employment to many "cowboys." It is very interesting and amusing to see these cow-boys on a general "round up," and especially to Easterners. But and especially to Easterners. don't imagine as we go along that all people residing in Texas are cowboys. During my recent and short stay in the Fort, I have formed the acquaintance of some very fine intelligent and energetic people. In our little city can be found tries of nearly every description. One Worth, is the Fort Worth Packing Co., attracts vast attention, and gives employment to many hundred men, and fifteen hundred head of cattle. The shipments from this great industry are made daily almost to Liverpool, and various ports in Europe and South The total corporated companies and institutions is 250. There are eight large banks. The largest is the Farmers and Mechanics' National bank, incorporated, March 30, 1889 with a capital stock of $1,000, 000,00. A recent report shows a surplus and undivided profits of $62,045. Fort Worth has eleven newspapers, three dailies and eight weeklies, 13 building and loan associations, which seem to be a great help to poor people our Shibboleth we would sweep the in securing homes; nine companies in the fire department, of which three are hook and ladder companies. NEWS OF GENERAL INTEREST. Ex-President Cleveland has written a letter to Gen. Edward S. Bragg, in reply to a request from General Bragg that Mr. Cleveland make an open avowal of his willingness to accept a nomination for the Presidency. In his reply Mr. Cleveland says that if in answering

General Bragg's request he might only consider his personal desires and his individual ease and comfort, his response would be promptly made and without the least reservation or difficulty, but if General Bragg is right in supposing that the subject is related to a duty he owes to the country and his party, a condition exists which makes such private and personal consideration entirely irrelevant. Mr. Cleveland adds that he is opposed to a self-seeking canvass for the nomination. Gen. Russel! A. Alger, of Detroit, who
